MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Considerations on Signing New Executive Order

The forthcoming ceremony for signing the new Executive Order on Intelligence presents several unique opportunities which I would appreciate your considering:

- ° Public acknowledgement that Executive Order is product of close cooperation between Secretary of Defense and Director of Central Intelligence.
- ° The public expression of support for my management of the Agency which you suggested earlier.
- ° Compliments to Chairman Inouye on his stewardship and award of an Intelligence Community medal.
- ° Welcome to Chairman Bayh.
- ° Mention of the House Committee under Chairman Boland and your pleasure at reports of fine cooperation there.

- ° An expression of hope that the charter legislation will move smoothly and expeditiously - especially that the Congress will not get stalled over attempting to place too much detail in the charters. We need some flexibility in intelligence operations and oversight.

Stan:

I think your suggestions for Presidential words at a signing ceremony for the new Executive Order are fine. I would suggest you might want to consider one addition. Remember that the President was quoted some five weeks ago as saying "The worst three events in the last ten years were Vietnam, Watergate, and the CIA." In addition to supporting your management of the Agency he might also say a few words on the Agency per se.
